FISH HAWK ADVENTURES

Welcome!

Thank you for booking a trip with Fish Hawk Adventures!

Fish Hawk Adventures is a remote fishing camp by definition. You will sleep and eat in tents.

You won't need a coat and tie to wear to dinner, or have to worry about tracking mud on the carpet.

No one will be offended by your cigar smoke or drink spilled laughing around the campfire.

You will catch fish till your arms are sore and your backaches and take home a box of Prized Kanektok treasure for your efforts.

You'll spend quality time with quality people like yourself and you won't believe what a Special River you are fishing. You will leave camp a little heavier than when you arrived and if you're like the majority of the anglers that visit Fish Hawk Adventures, you will return.

The purpose of this trip planner is to give you all the information that you will need to plan a successful trip to Fish Hawk Adventures. We hope that we've answered all of your questions in this guide, but if you have any questions that we didn't answer, or if we can help in any way, please don't hesitate to get in touch by calling us at 503-349-1411 or emailing us at info@fishhawkadventures.com

Thank you and welcome to Fish Hawk Adventures!

Our Location

Where in the world is Fish Hawk Adventures?

Fish Hawk Adventures operates a fixed base tent lodge located in the Togiak National Wildlife Refuge, near the Alaska Native village of Quinhagak, on the banks of the Kanektok River in far western Alaska along the coast of the Bering Sea.

So where in the heck is that? Quinhagak is a coastal community located in the southernmost reaches of Kuskokwim Bay. It is 425 miles WSW from Anchorage, 75 miles due South of the hub village of Bethel and 190 miles WNW from Dillingham. We are right in the middle of nowhere.

The Togiak National Wildlife Refuge encompasses over 4 million acres of lands that the US government deemed appropriate to manage by the objectives set forth in the National Wildlife Refuge system's directive to, among other things, conserve fish and wildlife populations and habitats in their natural diversity. Its northern border is the Yukon Delta National Wilderness Refuge. Its Eastern border is the Wood Tikchik Lakes and Wood Tikchik State Park. The southern border is Bristol Bay and the western border runs 50 miles inland of Goodnews and Platinum until it bisects the Kuskokwim Bay coastline. Several villages fall within the refuge's boundaries including Eek, Quinhagak, Platinum, Goodnews, Manokotak and Togiak. The refuge is mainly comprised of coastal flats, river flood plains and high tundra plains. Two mountain ranges run through the refuge—the Kilbuck range and the Ahklun range. Both are heavily eroded by ice, wind and water, and their highest peaks are less than 4,500 feet high.

The area is habitat to over 48 mammal species, 31 land-bound including caribou, wolves, moose, brown and black bear, foxes, beaver, muskrats, minks, river otters, voles and porcupines. 17 marine mammals live in the refuge including sea lions, walruses and whales. Three main river drainages host all five species of pacific salmon, rainbow trout, Dolly Varden, arctic grayling, arctic char and pike. Over 200 bird species nest in the refuge including golden and bald eagles, peregrine falcons, murrens, numerous species of waterfowl and shorebirds. Willow and cottonwood make up the scrub forests along the riverbanks and the tundra is flush with lichen, berries, dwarf trees and grasses.

From the river the world looks lush with a short forest of spindly trees, bushes and grasses, but gain 15 feet of elevation and look out over the treetops and the view is a vast flat tundra plain pocked with an uncountable number of ponds and lakes, that runs every direction until it crashes into the sea, bumps into a mountain or drops into a river's path.

Travel Logistics

Fish Hawk Adventures is fairly remote, so getting to our facility takes several steps. We think you'll agree that the effort is worth it!

Here are the legs of the trip--

1. Flying on Alaska Airlines to Bethel, Alaska
2. Flying a regional carrier from Bethel to Quinhagak
3. Taking a short boat ride from Quinhagak to our facility on the river

Flying to Bethel

Tickets on Alaska Airlines should be purchased through any normal air travel channel. Our changeover day is Saturday. Connecting with our Bethel-Quinhagak flights requires that you book specific flights on Alaska Airlines. Your reservations should be made to connect to the following flights on Friday:

Inbound flight on Saturday:

Alaska Airlines Flight 43

Departs Anchorage: 11:53 AM

Arrives Bethel: 1:08 PM

Outbound flight a week later:

Alaska Airlines Flight 44

Departs Bethel: 1:53 PM

Arrives Anchorage: 3:11 PM

Note that travel from most locations requires an overnight stay in Anchorage or Seattle in order to connect to the appropriate flight from Bethel.

When you arrive in Bethel, you will be met at the Alaska Airlines terminal by a representative from our regional carrier. They will help you with your bags and provide you with a very short van ride to their terminal in Bethel.

Bethel to Quinhagak

We fly between Bethel and Quinhagak using several different regional carriers. You do not need to make a reservation for this flight— Fish Hawk Adventures will contact the carrier to make the reservation for you. The price for the round-trip ticket is $210. This fee is not included in the price of your Alaska West trip, and you will be required to pay this $210 fee in Bethel.

The flight is 25 – 35 minutes long and covers a wide, flat stretch of coastal tundra.

Quinhagak to Fish Hawk Adventures

When you arrive in Quinhagak, representatives from Fish Hawk Adventures will meet you on the airstrip. You will board a jet boat for the short ride to our facility. Be sure to pack your raingear in an accessible spot—if it's raining you'll want it for the ride upriver.

Guests will typically arrive at Alaska West between 4:00 and 5:00pm on Friday. This does not allow time for fishing on your arrival day, but it provides a great opportunity to unpack, relax, get your gear rigged and enjoy an extended happy hour. Please remember that travel in bush Alaska requires flexibility and that a variety of factors, including weather, may impact your travel and therefore your arrival time.

If you have special scheduling needs and require flights at different times or on different days, please call us at 503-349-1411 or email us at info@fishhawkadventurers.com for additional travel options.

Staying in Anchorage

Hotels

The following hotels are popular with our anglers:

Puffin Inn

4400 Spenard Road

907-243-4044

The Puffin has economy prices, includes no frills, is close to the airport and has a shuttle.

The hotel is located on Spenard Road within walking distance of the Millennium.

Barratt Inn

4616 Spenard Road

907-243-3131

The Barratt Inn is mid-economy priced, includes no frills, is close to the airport and has a shuttle. The hotel is located on Spenard Road within walking distance of the Millennium.

Millennium Alaskan Hotel

4800 Spenard Road

907-243-2300

The Millennium is moderately priced. It is on the shore of Lake Hood and certain rooms have beautiful views of the largest seaplane base in the world. There is a fun bar and a decent restaurant. The hotel is close to the airport and offers shuttle service. The Millennium is a very popular choice with sportsmen and anglers.

Restaurants and Bars

The following establishments are popular with our anglers:

Gwennie's Old Alaskan Restaurant

4333 Spenard Road

Gwennie's is great for breakfast, serving far too much food in a fun atmosphere within walking distance of all the Spenard Road hotels. Gwennie's has the best Bloody Mary in Spenard.

Humpy's Great Alaskan Alehouse

610 W. 6th Ave

Humpy's is a fun bar serving pub fare, with a great scotch and micro-brew selection. This is a mixed age crowd, leaning toward younger.

F Street Station

F Street and 4th Ave

This is a fun bar, with good grilled seafood and a mixed-aged crowd leaning toward older.

FISH HAWK ADVENTURES

Club Paris

417 W. 5th Ave.

Club Paris has the best steak in Anchorage. It's a dark, little, very local hangout with a superb menu and wine list.

Simon and Seafort's Saloon and Grill

420 L Street

This is a very popular bar with a good restaurant attached. It's crowded but worth the wait. The window seats offer a great view of Cook Inlet.

Darwin's Theory

426 G Street

This is a little local bar with real Alaskan personality. They have no food other than popcorn. This is a great place to end your downtown pub-crawl and is a place not to miss.

Fishing Program

Our typical day starts at 7:00 AM with a buffet-style breakfast. At this time fixings are put out for you build yourself a custom-made lunch. Since our camp is located right in the heart of the fishing grounds you may choose to come back to camp and have a hot lunch and warm up.

Your guide and boat will be ready to leave the beach at 7:00 AM and will be at your service until 5:00 PM, when all boats are due back to camp. This is a long day of fishing!

Dinner is served at 7:00 PM.

Our boats are 16 to 18 foot flat-bottomed johnboats and are powered by 40 HP jet pumps. They are equipped with bow and stern anchors, two swivel seats and life jackets. A cooler is on board to store lunches and drinks.

Our jet boats are used in several different ways. While fishing for salmon you might fish from the boat. Anchoring up and swinging or stripping flies can be very effective. Back trolling plugs or spin-n-glos for kings is deadly. Fishing for trout can be done from our boats as well. While your guide rows you down river 'drift boat style' and you cast while floating. This method is a wonderful way to see the river and cover miles of water. While fishing from the boat is fun, most anglers also choose to fish from the wader-friendly gravel bars. This is where the jet boat shines! We can also run over very shallow water and get you too many small side channels that can be hiked up and fished from shore with your guide.

Electrical Devices

Due to our remote location, we have a limited supply of electricity. Please rely on battery-powered devices. Electricity for recharging batteries is available during daytime hours.

Taking Fish Home

Fish Hawk Adventures adheres to all state fishing regulations, including catch and release on all rainbow trout. We are happy to offer our anglers the opportunity to take home fresh frozen, fillets of salmon. In an effort to apply reason to our use of this resource we restrict each angler to 50 pounds of salmon fillets per week, a limit below that set by the Alaska Department of Fish and Game. 50 pounds is a lot of salmon!

Gratuities

For anglers who feel that they have received good service, tipping is customary at Fish Hawk Adventures. Our tips are all pooled and divided evenly between everyone who contributes to your experience during the week, including guides, kitchen staff and maintenance crew. We are often asked for a guideline on tipping, so we let anglers know that our average tip per angler for a week of fishing is $350 to $450. We encourage you to tip at a level that you feel is consistent with the service that you received. Tips are collected at the end of your week. Fish Hawk Adventures strongly prefers cash for tips, but checks, or credit cards are also accepted.

Alcohol Policy

The village of Quinhagak is 'dry'. This means that it is illegal to possess alcohol within city limits. Violators of this tribal law face fines and/or embarrassment. At Fish Hawk Adventures we do not provide alcohol to our anglers. We respect local residents' alcohol issues and advise interested persons to call our office at 503-349-1411 for more information on this sensitive issue.

Packing List

Fish Hawk Adventures is located in remote bush Alaska. You can purchase certain items in the village store, but the selection and availability is very limited. Tobacco products, film, batteries and fishing gear should be purchased in advanced of your trip. Use Anchorage as your last supply stop. We recommend water-repellant luggage with soft sides. Always have your rain gear near or at the top for easy access.

Weather in Alaska is very unpredictable. No matter when you visit, be prepared for highs in the 70s and lows in the 40s. July is typically the warmest month, with cooler temperatures in June and August. Always be prepared for rain and wind. No Alaskan goes anywhere without good rain gear.

Camp clothing should be casual and comfortable. Remember to keep all important medications separate from your luggage. Because we are exposed to the elements even around camp, warmth and dryness should be considered in all clothing choices. We recommend layering your clothing for warmth and versatility.

Tackle Recommendations

Fish Hawk Adventures supplies all leader material, terminal tackle and flies for your use, all at no charge. A limited number of fly and gear outfits are available as loaners. Please call if we can help outfit you for your trip.

Fly Tackle

Chinook Salmon (King)

Fly Rods: 10 weight to 12 weight rods are recommended, with 9 weight being on the light side. In most cases the line and flies are heavy so high modulus good quality rods are best. Spey rods are also a popular alternative because of their power and line control capabilities.

Reels: We recommend very durable reels with a strong disc type drag and a large spool capacity of at least 200 yards of 30 pound backing.

Lines: 100 to 500 grain, fast to extra fast shooting heads, and sink tips of 15 to 30 feet are all very common. Versatility is important. An interchangeable shooting head system is a good way to address varied water conditions.

Leaders: Leader should be abrasion resistant monofilament of 15 to 20 pound strength.

Pink Salmon (Humpy)

Fly Rods: 6 to 7 weight fly rods work best.

Reels: To match rod, with light to medium drag system.

Lines: Floating lines are most commonly used. In some situations, slow sinking 5 to 13 foot tips may be used.

Leaders: 6 to 10 pound monofilament.

Chum Salmon (Dog)

Fly Rods: We recommend 7 weight to 9 weight quality rods with actions that are well suited for casting in windy conditions.

Reels: Durable reels with a medium to strong disc drag are necessary. Spool capacity should be at least 150 yards of 20 pound backing.

Lines: A floating line along with at least one sink tip is usually best. Sink tips should be 5 feet to 15 feet with a medium to fast sink rate.

Leaders: 10 to 15 pound monofilament.

FISH HAWK ADVENTURES

SALMON ♦ STURGEON ♦ STEELHEAD ♦ GUIDE SERVICE ♦ 503.349.1411

Sockeye Salmon (Red)

Fly Rods: 6 weight to 8 weight.

Reels: Durable reel with strong drag to match rod.

Lines: Floating lines.

Leaders: 10 to 15 pound monofilament.

Coho Salmon (Silver)

Fly Rods: We recommend 7 weight to 9 weight quality rods with actions that are well suited for casting in windy conditions.

Reels: Durable reels with a medium to strong disc drag are necessary. Spool capacity should be at least 150 yards of 20 pound backing.

Lines: A floating line along with at least one sink tip is usually best. Sink tips should be 5 feet to 15 feet with a medium to fast sink rate.

Leaders: 10 to 15 pound monofilament.

Rainbow Trout

Fly Rods: 6 to 7 weight high quality, fast action rods capable of casting mouse patterns and split shot, and dealing with the occasional rouge salmon that will strike your trout fly. Drift fishing can be snag intensive so be prepared to use a little heavier leader for trout than most people are accustomed to.

Rainbows on the Kanektok can range from 12 to 30 plus inches!

Reels: To match rod with medium to strong drag.

Lines: Floating lines with 120 yards of backing are most common. Strike indicators are also very effective.

Leaders: 8 to 12 pound leaders.

Dolly Varden

Fly Rods: 4 weight to 6 weight medium to fast action rods capable of casting split shot with a strike indicator, and dealing with the occasional big rainbow or sockeye.

Reels: Good quality reel and drag that matches rod.

Lines: Floating lines are best.

Leaders: Up to 12 feet of 6 to 10 pound test.

FISH HAWK ADVENTURES

SALMON ♦ STURGEON ♦ STEELHEAD ♦ GUIDE SERVICE ♦ 503.349.1411

Grayling

Fly rods: Here's your chance to use that 3 weight! 3 to 5 weight soft to medium to fast action. Reels: Quality reels that match rod. Light drag is fine.

Lines: Floating lines.

Leaders: Longer leaders up to 12 feet. 10 pound butt section with a 6 to 8 pound tippet.

Conventional Tackle

King Salmon

Rods: We recommend 20 to 40 pound line rated casting rods with a sensitive tip, to read plug action and detect subtle strikes. Spinning rods can be used with the same specs.

Reels: Casting or level wind reels are superior for fighting big fish for many reasons and are highly recommended. Line capacity should be at least 200 yards of 20-pound monofilament. Spinning reels must have an extremely strong drag and large line capacity.

Line: High quality, low diameter spectra braid is best 50 test or greater, or monofilament line with high abrasion resistance is best. 25-pound break strength is average.

Pink Salmon

Rods: Light weight spinning rods rated to match 6 to 10 pound monofilament are recommended.

Reels: To match rod.

Line: 6 to 10 pound monofilament.

Chum, Sockeye and Silver Salmon

Rods: We recommend medium-weight spinning or casting rods, rated for 10 to 20 pound monofilament line.

Reels: To match with at least 200 yards of line.

Line: 10 to 20 pound monofilament.
